Across the Line.

HUNDREDS WITNESS RACE

Weather Is Clear and New York's Harbor Is Decked Out in Colors for Second Event of Classic Contest;
Time Allowance Remains the Same.

By Associated Press.

SANDY HOOK, July 17.—Resolute crossed the starting line ahead of Shamrock IV today in the second cup race. The starting signal was blown at 1:46 P. M.

The two sloops stood away to sea on the starboard tack, both skippers holding their charges in the eye of the wind. Resolute seemed from the shore to run better than the challenger and if anything seemed to foot faster. There was not enough air, however, to put them down on their true racing lines.

Captain Charles Francis Adams III, skipper of Resolute, won all the honors at the start. Soon after the Shamrock crossed the line he took in her jibs.

The official starting time was 1:46:
26 for Resolute and 1:46:37 for Shamrock.

Shamrock tried hard to kill Reso-lute's wind at the start and several times tacked on top of the defender.
Each time Adams slipped away by bearing off.

Within minutes after the start Resolute was a quarter of a mile to windward and holding well.
At 2:05 P. M. a wireless message sent from the destroyer designated as official press boat stated that both yachts were still holding the starboard tack with Resolute to the windward and Shamrock a trifle ahead but unable to cross the defender's bow.

SANDY HOOK, July 17.—The regatta announced at 11:20 a. m. that the time allowance which Shamrock must give Resolute would remain at six minutes 40 seconds for the 30 miles course.

FROM A SEA PLANE OVER THE RACING COURSE, July 17.—New York's outer harbor put on its best holiday suit of sunshine and favorable weather early today and waited for the sail which was to start the second event of the classic contest for international yachting supremacy between the British challenger Shamrock IV and Resolute the American defender.

Across the vast stage already set with sharp drawn lines dividing land and sky and sea, off shore little craft dodged in and out among their neighbors, steamers and flags abounding making ready to assist or watch the spectacle.

FOUR EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS SHAKE LOS ANGELES; LOSS IS SMALL; CONDITIONS NORMAL

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Four earthquake shocks of varying intensity formed the total of yesterday's seismic disturbances here and although the last one came after 10:10 in the morning.

It felt much as does the sudden stopping of a street car, operated by an inexperienced motorman, only that the tremor produced the usual consciousness multiplied many times.

Excitement, in many cases hysterical, followed the first shock and had hardly been calmed when at 1:27 in the afternoon came the second, followed two minutes later by the third, and then a fourth at 6:13. The two in the afternoon were sharper than that of the morning, and the agitation of the citizens became prolonged. It was some time afterwards before it was a case of "business as usual."

Public places were scenes of near-panic, some people running or the open air, some fainting, some stopping to pray. Many gathered at street intersections waiting to see what would happen. Others who felt they must be on their way, walked down the middle of the street with watchful eyes on the buildings.

SMALLPOX PATIENTS
TO REMAIN AT "Y";
RESTAURANT TO OPEN

Arrangements Will Be Made With Board of Health to Have Through Quarantine.

The Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. will remain the quarters of the four smallpox patients isolated there at the present time. This was determined last night at a meeting of the directors of the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A.
Notwithstanding the fact that the association is suffering a heavy loss due to the closing of the restaurant and dormitory, it is felt that the well-fare of the men comes first and they shall remain at the "Y" instead of being isolated in a tent.

The action of Assistant Secretary Allen P. Richards in volunteering to remain with the sick men was commended. Richards although not required to do so, remained with the victim and is now also isolated in the building. He was in charge at that time. Secretary W. F. Underwood being out of the city.

The general committee, appointed at the last meeting of the B. & O. Post consisting of Carl T. Plotz, Dan Wright, Percy Sheetz, Harry Mason and Frank McCalra, will have charge of the affair. Special committees will be selected shortly to provide the features and arrange all the detail.

The arrangements will then open for business.
All the employees of the place were vaccinated on the night of the outbreak of the disease.

These present at the meeting of directors were G. W. Campbell, W. N.
Loche, E. W. Hornan, L. E. Handson, G. W. Tipson, H. L. Cordrey and Secretary W. F. Underwood.

MANY ENJOY CONCERT

First Open Air Treat Attended by Several Hundred.

Music lovers of Connellsville and vicinity were given a rare treat last evening when the Connellsville Millitary band under the direction of John L. Gaster, leader, gave the first open air concert of the summer season on the vacant lot, opposite the Crawford school building on North Seventh street, West Side. The concert attracted a large crowd from the East and West Side, and every number of the delightful program was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Gaster and his talented musicians were at their best, a more entertaining musical program having not been rendered by the popular band for so sometime.

A cornet solo, "Aquarella," by William S. Zelenka of Mount Pleasant, and vocal solo by Philip Callahan of Phillips were pleasing features of the concert, both receiving generous applause. The most popular number rendered by the band was "Don Quixote."

ALLIES THREATEN TO DRIVE TURKS OUT OF EUROPE FOR GOOD

Allied Reply to Turkish Objections to Treaty Made in Uncompromising Words.

JULY 27 IS TIME LIMIT

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 27.—A threat to drive the Turks from Europe "once and for all" is contained in the Allied reply to the Turkish objections to the peace treaty made public here today. Such action might follow Turkey's refusal to sign the treaty or her failure to give it effect the reply states. The time limit for Turkey to make known her decision expires at midnight, July 27.

The Allies have arranged to deliver this reply which takes the form of an amendment to the Turkish peace delegation in Paris this afternoon. The Turks are informed that they must signify their willingness to sign the treaty within 10 days, failing which the allied powers will take such action as they may consider necessary in the circumstances.

The Allies made some minor modifications in the treaty after the Turks had presented the protest but it is understood that these modifications do not materially affect the original treaty.

The reply is couched in the blunt language.

"Mustered In"

THANKS TO WHOM DUE.
Time and time again during the drive for recruits for the "Fighting Tenth" friends of Company D have watched anxiously the outcome of each and every method employed by the officers of the Company and the men already enlisted to bring the organization to the required quota as stated in the National Guard Regulations. There were many periods of discouragement; and the enemies spotted at the very first—at such times were careless with their remarks of appreciation.

"Well, I guess Company D is not getting along very fast with recruiting," said one leering propagandist who had twaddled around considerably about "strike duty."

The poor patrician has never learned there is such a term as riot duty and abuses the National Guardsman's honor by substituting a thing the members of Company D will never know, and that is "strike duty." There is no such animal. How weak and tottering was their argument.

The noise of a Ford has been described by learned writers as nothing; the sound of a Ford horn less than nothing, then the only thing that is less than less than nothing is to sit in a restaurant and listen to a stiff old knock-out argument against the National Guard like these:

"Do you know that if an ex-service man joins the National Guard and a bonus will be passed, he won't get the bonus?"

"Do you know that as soon as the National Guard is mustered into the service they will be called out?"

"Say, do you know the National Guard officers are paid to recruit the companies and we, the tax payers, have to pay it?"

"By the way, do you know, etc., etc."

My, how that bonuses or boneless, taxless, anti-patriot loving knocker thrives; after information, always asking some one else, "do you know?" But no one knew.

Upstanding young men of Connellsburg, patriotic to the very bottom of their heart, loyal to their home people, asking and working for the very best that Connellsburg could offer Company D, worked day after day and night after night to but themselves and their organization rightly before the people only to find that some chronic grouch without respect for true citizenship had spread "thorns on fertile soil" and the result was discouragement. Older citizens of Connellsburg, with the best interests of Company D at heart, shouldered the yoke along with the younger men only to find that the enemy had been everywhere. Finally they declared: "We will succeed in spite of the propaganda used against the organization of Company D." And they did succeed.

Company D is now a fact. It is made up of clean-cut young men, honest, patriotic, good sportsmen, backed financially by the best business men in town, with a social standing of high order and with a history behind the outfit only the best can equal and but few surpass.

Now when it has come time to thank those who by their help brought us out of discouragement, we want to be big enough to thank the knockers. It has been said of Henry's Ford that you can't hold a good thing down, and "every knock is a boost." So, for every bit of material aid the units gave us, we thank them.

But how much easier it is, and how sincerely can we thank Captain John L. Gans, editor of The Courier and a former commander of Company D, who came to the Armory every evening during the recruiting drive and thereby gave the officers and enlisted men an example to follow. Captain Gans was alive to every situation the men had to meet and his sound advice brought notable results.

Through the pages of The Courier no less than 80 columns of space was devoted to the recruiting of the Company, entirely without cost. Some of the material written by Captain Gans, and originally published in The Courier, was used by company commanders throughout Western Pennsylvania to recruit their commands. Colonel Martin wishes to thank Captain Gans for his loyalty, and added to the Colonel's best wishes are those of the Company.

And so extend our thanks and best wishes to Joseph E. Angie, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, for his attendance at the special meetings of the Company and for his successful direction of the financial campaign as the result will add many comforts to the boys at home and in the field. We thank the members of the committee which raised the Company D Fund.

We thank Alex B. Hood, who is the permanent treasurer of the Company D Fund, for the many times he has helped put the Company over.

Again, we sincerely thank Captain Harry Dunn, former Company D commander. Captain Harry entered into the spirit of the reorganization at the very first and at certain times when the clouds began to appear on the horizon he came to our aid with enthusiasm which immediately dispelled the gloom.

To Major Robert S. McKee is due many thanks for holding up the recruiting of the Sanitary Detachment until the Company was completed, and for his enthusiastic speeches in behalf of recruiting.

We thank the staff of the Connellsburg Daily News and the staff of the Brownsville Telegraph for the publicity given to the campaign.

Wright-Metzler company gave the Company a window display which attracted much attention and drew several recruits to the Company's ranks, and we now kindly thank them for their interest and concern for us.

To C. A. Wagner, manager of the Saksen and Paramount theaters, for placing slides in the theaters which advertised the recruiting campaign we extend our thanks.

Ted Stafford, a veteran of the 110th Infantry Sanitary Detachment, was one of the hardest workers for the outfit and perhaps brought in more recruits than any other man, and we certainly wish him to accept our thanks for his services.

We thank the Sponsors, every one of them.

We thank every one who displayed an interest in Company D and its success or silently worked for its successful completion. It is our hope to live up to the traditions of the "Fighting Tenth."

We thank you.

TRANSFERS TO SANITARY DETACHMENT.

The time has come when all units of the 10th Regiment must be mustered into service. In order to do so each unit is required to be up to strength. These units are to be mustered into both state and federal service.

To insure a speedy muster in of the Sanitary Detachment, Colonel Martin has asked that a sufficient number of men to make up the required quota of this unit be transferred from Company D. Consequently arrangements have been made for the transfer of the following:

Robert E. Cunningham, Clyde R. Raymond, Kenneth K. Evans, Lawrence McCullough, Robert H. McDonald, Charles H. Yaw, Joseph H. Stephens, Lawrence E. Lee, Charles R. Newcomer and Odis W. Chalfant.

NEW UNIFORMS NEXT WEEK.

The new uniforms are expected to arrive some time next week. Supply Sergeant Mossoly hopes to have all equipment checked and ready to issue by Monday, July 20.

It is not necessary for men to take extra blankets, etc., to camp this year, as a sufficient amount will be issued to prevent men from overloading our trucks to the limit.

"ALIAS MISS DODD"—With Edith Roberts, the charming star, in a pleasant role is today's feature attraction.

Miss Roberts has the role of Jeanne, who works in a bindery. Old Dodd brings his diary there to be bound, saying no one must read a word of it.

But Jeanne does. She's a descendant of Eve and fully as curious. What the diary purports to reveal horrifies her and she sets about to right all the wrongs. Her enthusiasm is dampened somewhat when she falls in love with Dodd's nephew, Kent, who doesn't seem at all the man the diary makes him out to be.

Miss Roberts is tumultuous as Jeanne and the supporting cast is unusually good. Johnnie Cooke does some excellent character work as Dodd, while Walter P. Richardson is a likable chap as Dodd's nephew, Kent. Harry Van Motor, Ruth Kline, Margaret McWade and Vida Johnson take the other principal parts creditably.

COAL SUPPLY

Of New England Range from Two to Six Weeks Survey Shows.

According to a rapid survey of the coal stocks of the country, being made by the United States Geological Survey, the coal gas plants of New England on May 31 had 61,857 tons on hand or sufficient for operation for 4-4/7 weeks. The electric utilities had 199,830 tons, or 5-6/7 weeks' supply.

The industrial consumers, exclusive of steel and by-product coke plants, had 481,662 tons, or sufficient to operate for 5-3/7 weeks. Retail dealers had, on an average, less than two weeks' supply of bituminous and about three weeks' supply of anthracite.

There are other business establishments which help in a substantial way also and we wish to extend our thanks to them.
